RE: FY2024 Labor, Health and Human Services, Education and Related Agencies Appropriations

RE: FY2024 Commerce, Justice, Science and Related Agencies Appropriations

Dear Chairwoman Murray:

On behalf of the National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI), we are grateful for the historic and bipartisan investments in mental health services in recent years. These investments, prioritized by both Republican and Democrat Administrations and Congresses, are transforming mental health services across the country. Mental health affects every American, and we look forward to working with you in the year ahead to ensure that investments in mental health services remain at the top of our nation’s priority list.

Congress has provided unprecedented leadership that is accelerating access to mental health services in every community. As just one example, with the passage and recent nationwide launch of the 988 Suicide & Crisis Lifeline, Congress has invested in a future where any person in crisis can get the help they need. This bold goal for our future can only be achieved by continued Congressional leadership in sustaining these critical investments over time.

NAMI is the nation’s largest grassroots mental health organization, and as an alliance, we are dedicated to building better lives for the millions of people affected by mental illness. The communities we serve and advocate for are as diverse as our nation. NAMI is a voice for youth and adolescents, veterans and service members, individuals involved with the criminal justice system, people experiencing homelessness, family caregivers, and every American impacted by mental illness. We are all connected by the shared hope of new and innovative treatments, improved health care coverage, increased connections to care and support through recovery.

As you set our nation’s budget priorities, we urge you to continue to make our nation’s mental health care one of those key national priorities. You and your colleagues on both sides of the aisle on the Appropriations Committee have made unprecedented investments in mental health, substance use, and suicide prevention in the last several years and we must not miss the opportunity to continue to leverage those investments for our critical need and opportunity to transform mental health care in our country.

The COVID-19 pandemic revealed a simmering mental health crisis in our country that has left people of all backgrounds and socio-economic statuses untreated or undertreated for their mental health conditions. This includes our nation’s children, who are directly affected by our nation’s mental health emergency, with recent CDC data showing that nearly 1 in 3 teen girls seriously considered suicide in 2021. We must and we can do better to help our children and all of our loved ones in crisis. This requires continued significant and sound investments in the 988 and mental health crisis system and mental health services at large.

For Fiscal Year 2024 Appropriations, we seek your continued partnership and support for no less than FY2023 funding levels for mental health programs funded in the Labor, Health and Human Services, Education and Related Agencies (Labor, HHS) and Commerce, Justice, Science and Related agencies (CJS) Appropriations bills as follows:
